INDEMNITY:

The client acknowledges that he or she knows the CPSC registered pastoral worker is a facilitator and not a psychologist or social worker. Facilitation is based on empowering the individual, by means of support, guidance and comfort, to function optimally within his or her contexts. The client is willingly taking part in the facilitation without being unduly influenced to do so by the pastoral worker.

The client agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the pastoral worker from any claim for any damages of any nature arising from the facilitation process. The client accepts full responsibility for any decisions made regarding his or her life.

The client is protected from inappropriate release of confidential information. The CPSC registered pastoral worker agrees to work within the CPSC Scope of Practice, CPSC Code of Ethics and ACRP Disciplinary Code.
